The concept of remote working has matured to a point whereby it is not only an accepted working culture, but a critical business enabler for most organisations. Indeed Gartner predict that between 2006 and 2008 remote and mobile working will quadruple. Remote and mobile workers need easy-to-use, reliable access to corporate resources and the Internet, whilst the IT department needs a service that is cost effective, manageable and compatible with existing infrastructure.

Access Control.

Azzurri Roam Enterprise enables organisations to adopt a flexible method to the way in which access security can be implemented by offering a 'multi factor' approach.

- Who is it? - defined by the user's ID or name and a unique physical token that can be verified
- Are you sure it's them? - prompting for some form of unique password or PIN known only to that user
- What device is being used to access? - Azzurri Roam Enterprise enables IT departments to create and enforce access policies that ensure only corporate-authorized devices gain network access via VPNs.

Security Policy Enforcement & Remediation.

Endpoint assessment and remediation is an essential part of the Azzurri Roam Enterprise service as it enables the administrator to meet one of the biggest challenges IT faces today; keeping a remote users device up-to-date and 'in-policy' before it connects to the corporate network.
